HUNT STAGED FOR NEGRO ASSAILANT

ESCORT IS HELD AT BAY WITH A PISTOL

Couple, Enroute Thru Stretch Of Woods Halted By Black.

BIRMINGHAM HAS SUNDAY OUTRAGE

Whole Department In Search For Negro Wanted For Crime.

(Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 18.—Practically the entire police strength of Birmingham was today directed in search of a negro man who is charged with attacking a northside woman in a stretch of woods in Norwood last night while he held her male escort at bay with a pistol.

The couple was enroute to a street car, the man reported to police. He said he was robbed of $2 and a watch and that the negro said to him:

"I've a great mind to kill you for not having more than that."

The woman's escort was able to give only a partial description of the negro who escaped after detaining the couple for some time, according to the man's story to the police.

The woman, whose name police are withholding from publication, is under the care of a physician and is in a state of nervous prostration.

The attack occurred at 8 o'clock Sunday night, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Streets and Fourteenth and Fifteenth Avenues, North, a wooded section.

The young woman and her escort were on their way to a street car. The negro leaped in front of them from behind a clump of bushes, pistol in hand, they told police.

The young woman screamed but was hushed when the negro threatened to kill both of them. The negro then backed both of them into a denser part of the woods and relieved the man of $2 and a watch.

The negro then pointed to a tree, to which he directed the young woman. He then held the pistol in his hand all the time forcing the man to look on.

After the attack, according to the man, the negro said: "I'm going. You go that way," pointing to the east, "but don't move until I throw a rock. If you do I'll come back and kill you." With this the negro darted away and left the couple in the woods.

The man and the young woman finally made their way to a house at Thirteenth Avenue, North, and Twenty-Sixth Street, where the man called police headquarters. City Detectives George M. Bragan, R. J. Walton and W. B. Helton were sent to the woods immediately, scouring the vicinity for several hours and searching in nearby negro quarters, but found no trace of the negro.

Tuscaloosa Votes On School Bonds

By Associated Press.

TUSCALOOSA, June 18.—Tuscaloosa today is balloting upon a $500,000 school bond issue, the passage of which will result in the building of a new high school costing approximately $250,000 and the expenditure of the remaining amount in completely reorganizing the city's public school system.

The bond issue has the pledged support of every local civic organization and the Kiwanians, the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Ku Klux Klan are actively at work in getting voters to the polls today.

A man is your friend when knowing your sins he can keep a closed mouth.

Beautiful Pageant Presented At The Willoughby Presbyterian Church Sunday

"Our Father's Field," was the subject of a beautiful pageant given at the Willoughby Presbyterian church last night before a large gathering of the church membership and their friends.

The program as arranged by Mrs. A. N. Penland, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. Robert Gilliam and other leading women of the church, made a strong appeal to the large audience.

One of the most realistic parts of the program was where the missionary mission of the church was depicted.

The darkness of unChristian lands was illustrated by darkened rooms, while the light of the gospel was illustrated by lighted candles, the open Bible and lighted rooms.

To further impress the contrast between heathen and Christian countries and the need of the truth, a number of young ladies were dressed in black and came marching out of a dark room singing the well known mission of invitation hymn, "Send the Light."

Then as if in answer to the appeal of their beighted sisters a number of other young ladies dressed in white and bearing candles and the open Bible, marched out of a lighted room to meet their sisters who were dressed in black, singing as they marched, the inspiring hymn "The Gospel Light is Shining."

The two parades met near the chancel, and joined a girl dressed in white marching to the pulpit platform with a companion dressed in black.

But it was so arranged that two of the girls dressed in black were left behind and had no companions with whom to march. When their horror-stricken condition was noticed by the light bearing missionary girls, two of their number came down from the platform and comforted the representatives of heathen countries.

The musical numbers rendered were in part as follows: Opening song "See a host advancing," Chorus by Sunday School classes, "Time Swiftly Flies," Song by Juniors, "Coming, Coming, Coming," Duet and Chorus, "In Our Father's Field," Shepherd Song, "We Go to Seek the Lost Sheep," Song by six girls, "The Gospel Light is Shining."

The full choir of the school and church then sang the following hymns and between each hymn a short Bible passage was repeated:

"Hark the Sweet Bells Chiming," Hallelujah to the Lord of Glory," and "Go Work in the Lord's Harvest Field."

Y SUNDAY SCHOOL IS WELL ATTENDED

A large number of enthusiastic men interested in the early morning Bible school at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. met in the west room of the Association building Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The school opened with the well known hymn, "Let the Lower Light be Burning," followed with other similar hymns, led by Mr. McCullough with Mr. Sneed at the piano.

Prayer was offered by Mr. Johnson when a call was made for new members. The teacher, Rev. Noble R. Edwards, then took charge and taught a lesson from the Eighth chapter of Matthew, subject: "Jesus, the Healer." The teacher placed the record of Christ as a miracle performer before his hearers and challenged the world of critics to do away with the divine record.

The teacher impressed the power of Christ to heal soul diseases as well as those of the body, and claimed that soul healing was Christ's great mission.

A number of new members were received at the close of the lesson. Prof. J. D. Garren, the assistant teacher, was asked by Rev. Noble to take the school next Sunday.

Cost Of Food Is On The Upgrade

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The retail cost of food to the average family in 51 cities increased two-tenths of one per cent from April 15 to May 15, according to figures announced today by the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor.

Of 32 cities showing an increase, the highest which was four per cent, was recorded in Philadelphia.

Woman's Neck Is Broken By Fall Into Flower Pit

(Associated Press.)

EUFULA, Ala., June 18.—Mrs. Robert Pitts died at her home at Oswichee late yesterday as a result of a broken neck sustained when she fell, headfirst, into her flower pit. She is survived by her husband and one son, Carcy Pitts, of Columbus.

ENGINEER SURVEYS DECATUR'S STREETS

Engineer M. S. Bingham stated this morning that he would begin surveys of Decatur streets Tuesday with a view of furnishing the Decatur city council with a map showing those streets now regarded as needing paving.

When asked as to the probable extent of the paving program in Decatur the engineer stated that until he went over the situation and made a thorough examination of the streets he would not know how many streets needed new work, nor how much work they would require.

The present plan is for Mr. Bingham to present full data to the Decatur city council as to the condition of streets, and then await the decision of the Mayor and council as to how much work should be done at this time.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PAVING PROTESTS

An adjourned meeting of the Albany city council will be held this evening, which meeting is also a regular meeting of the council.

As advertised, tonight is the time for the council to hear any objection to plans now completed for paving a number of streets in the city.

Hartung stated this morning that four streets would be brought up at the meeting (tonight) and if no objection was raised to the plans for their paving work would begin on them in a short while.

The other streets to be paved under the recent $125,000 bond issue will be taken up at later meetings of the council, Mr. Hartung stated.

In addition to street paving matters all questions generally taken up at regular council meetings will be called up tonight.

Chamber To Meet Tuesday Evening

The directors of the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce will meet in regular session Tuesday night. Plans will be discussed at that time for the "Iron Clad" hosiery day and for the meeting to be held June 28 in addition to regular routine business.

LIGHTNING KILLS 2 IN JACKSON COUNTY

Prominent Farmer And Son Meet Tragic Death In Field.

WOMAN IS ILL FROM THE SHOCK

Community Is In Gloom From The Tragedy At Hollywood.

(By Associated Press.)

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., June 18.—The Hollywood community, near here, is stirred by the tragic death of two of its best known citizens and the critical condition of the wife and mother of the two victims.

The two men met death almost instantly as the result of a stroke of lightning.

Richard Pace, regarded as one of the most prominent farmers of this community, and his son, Earl Pace, aged 17, were plowing late Saturday when the bolt struck them. The men were about 15 feet apart and both were killed instantly. The two horses being used by the men were not injured and ran away, dragging the two plows to the Pace home.

Upon the arrival of the frightened animals, a search was begun for the father and son, and their bodies discovered.

Mrs. Richard Pace, wife and mother, collapsed from the shock and was in an extremely grave condition with her death feared momentarily.

The funeral of father and son was to be held late today.

Earl Pace was a student at the Jackson County high school here and was extremely popular among the faculty and student body. The double tragedy has cast a gloom over the entire section.

KEEPING PEOPLE SAVED STRESSED

Speaking on the mission of the church to a large congregation at the First Christian Church Sunday morning, Rev. Noble R. Edwards, the pastor and the leader of the revival meeting now in progress at that church, impressed the need of saving people and keeping them saved.

The regular song service was engaged in preceding the sermon, the hymns being led by the choir, with Miss Myers at the piano and Miss Talley, violinist.

In his introduction the preacher showed that Christ being the foundation of the church was the divinely appointed agency for saving the world.

In connection with Christ's mission the speaker quoted a number of the expressions of the Savior, such as His saying that he came not to save the righteous but the sinners, and His invitation to the weary and heavy laden to come unto Him.

Head Hits Auto Top, Harting Is Hurt

Due to a forced ride in an automobile from Petersburg to Lewisburg this morning to catch the southbound Louisville & Nashville train, Henry Hartung, popular city clerk of Albany, is carrying a bruised head today. Mr. Hartung said that he was riding so fast that he was thrown upward against the top of the car he was in, but did not call a halt as he felt bound to get to Lewisburg by train time.

Mr. Hartung was returning from a family reunion at Petersburg where nearly 70 relatives enjoyed a splendid dinner Sunday. Mr. Hartung was accompanied by Mrs. Hartung.

Mrs. Gary is a charming hostess and is fast becoming the leader of the foreign colony in London, where she is spending the season with her debutante daughters.

CLUB COMMENDS BEAUTY EFFORTS

The City Beautiful club, through its secretary, Miss Bessie Speake, has issued the following statement taken from the Manufacturers Record:

"Beauty is profitable when viewed from the purely commercial standpoint. Beauty of architecture, beauty of cleanliness, beauty of flowers and shrubbery, beauty of the freshly painted house, all of these things pay even from the financial standpoint. It is folly to advertise a town which is not worthy by reason of its attractiveness to be placed before public attention."

Speaking for the club relative to certain improvements made in the Twin Cities Miss Speake said:

"The City Beautiful Club of Albany-Decatur notes with pleasure the efforts being made to improve many of the streets. The appearance of Bank Street especially shows marked improvement as the business houses and owners of property along this street have planted flowers and shrubs and the grass is being cut, all of which improves the looks of things. This street is now one of which we may well feel proud, and shows what a little effort will accomplish."

"The club also wishes to commend those merchants along the north side of Lee Street who have made it part of their duty as good citizens to cut the weeds and grass along that most traveled thoroughfare. It is hoped that their neighbors may see this good example and go and do likewise."

Mount Etna Again Threatens Cities

(By Associated Press.)

CATANIA, June 18.—Mount Etna is active today. Several eruptions of the volcano during the night were heralded by loud explosions, followed by streams of lava that overran a number of cultivated fields and woods.

The station at Castiglione has been destroyed and the railway near the mountain obstructed, while a lava stream 300 meters wide, threatens the district about Liruguglosa.

President Patterson Says Matter Still Is Under Advisement.

(Associated Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 18.—A decision on the request of the Alabama Power company to install a transmission power line from Huntsville to Sheffield is expected to be announced by the Alabama Public Service Commission today, according to A. G. Patterson, president of the commission.

"We have the matter under advisement and will probably give out something definite late today," Commissioner Patterson said this morning.

NEARING GOAL IN RIVER AID DRIVE

With only two days to secure the quota of $2,500 set for the Twin Cities for the Tennessee Valley Improvement Association, leaders of the campaign in the two cities are making many calls today and ready responses are being met, it is stated.

The state press has taken up the matter and a number of references are being made to the need of full cooperation among those of the Tennessee Valley who see the necessity of the success of the plans of the Tennessee Valley Improvement Association, if the hope of establishing Henry Ford at Muscle Shoals is realized.

Writers are pointing out that the Tennessee Valley Association is the one organization in this section pledged to work for the success of the Ford bid, and that those who honestly desire the Detroit man to develop the power at Muscle Shoals, must show their wishes and their faith by their work.

Clyde Hendrix, chairman for Decatur, stated this morning that not a man had turned down requests for donations to the association.

Mr. Hendrix stated that with the goal of success for Ford so near it was unthinkable to him that the final rally to the organization would be anything but a success.

It is understood that workers in the city of Albany raised over $1,000 of the desired amount from Albany.

The plan now is to have the entire $2,500 ready by Tuesday night to wire to Washington headquarters of the Tennessee Valley Improvement Association.

Ford Again Says He Will Not Run

(Associated Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 18.—"I have no desire to be president of the United States," Henry Ford said, while stopping over for the week end here on his way from Providence, R. I., to Poughkeepsie, N. Y. "I am too much occupied with my own affairs to become the next president and I do not intend to run. All this you hear about my name being associated with the presidency is newspaper talk. There is nothing in it."

Convicts Work To Prevent A Flood

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

MURDER SHOULD BE CONSIDERED AS IN VERY BAD FORM.

Recent announcements show that of all the countries of the world America is far in the lead regarding the number of murders committed.

Nine murders out of every 100,000 inhabitants is the record, and it has no equal in all history. The city of Memphis leads all the cities with a rate of 67.5, per 100,000; Nashville comes second with 30.7, New Orleans third with 21, out of every 100,000, with New York having a rate of 5.8. The entire nation averages nine homicides out of every 100,000. These figures are taken from the "Spectator," an insurance journal.

Such a state of affairs cannot be changed by merely passing laws against murder, forbidding the sale of fire arms or the use of pistols.

Murder must become to be regarded as in very bad form. Not only must the scriptural doctrine prevail that no murders shall enter the pearly gates but also the practice must prevail that no person with a murderous heart shall inhabit good society in this world.

One secret reason why homicides prevail in America is that as a people we place a cheap value on human life. The idea of life standing in the way of certain accomplishments is scouted by many valuable citizens. By way of illustration is said that a famous cavalry leader of the late war once told one of his ranking officers that if that officer interfered with some of the cavalry leaders plans a second time death would be his portion. Even today, such a sentiment is not severely condemned.

The story of the threat of the cavalry leader is told in such a manner as to make him a hero, rather than a potential murderer.

Today it is not considered very unpopular to kill people, under certain circumstances and when they are accused of certain crimes. The spirit of retaliation seems to know no bounds. Vengeance belongs alone to the Almighty.

It is expected, in case certain crimes against the home are committed, that the head of the household must kill the man in the case. And he is expected to kill him quick, regardless of who is or who is not guilty. In a word although the divine law places murder as one of the worst crimes, human beings place it well down the list. People who have not hesitated to kill, are often held in higher esteem than some poor fellows who have been known to steal. One cannot steal and maintain his standing in the community, but when it comes to taking human life, when it comes to stealing away the life blood, a thing he cannot restore, the man killer is all too often looked upon as a kind of hero. One very good stay to murder and all homicide, is for public opinion to get "agin them," and to make such pastimes very unpopular.

GIVE UP NO GROUND TAKEN

FROM JOHN BARLEYCORN.

Any movement at this time or at any future time to weaken the arm of the government in its efforts to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment will be vigorously opposed by the vast majority of the people of the United States.

The fact there are many violations of our dry laws, have nothing whatever to do with the principle involved as to the right or wrong of our prohibition laws.

The American people legislated against whisky for a generation. Just as quick as the federal government allowed legal sales of liquor as a means of getting revenue, badly needed on account of debts incurred by the Civil War, lawmakers in every state have tried to regulate and to control the liquor traffic, but all to no purpose.

The liquor interests will not be controlled. The American people are thoroughly convinced of this. They were patient and long suffering. But now they are done. They are heartbroken and sick over all this talk of "personal liberty" to get all the poison drinks they want, with no thought except for their own selfish gratification either as to taste or as a revenue derivable from the destructive business.

The parents and heads of families in America are no more in favor of opening the flood gates of liquor than they would be to giving their children and the people generally the right to play freely with fire all they might wish.

The people do not care to go into a discussion as to whether wine and beer should be returned and made legal drinks. They know such a move will tend to increase drunkenness and a larger disrespect for the law, and they are unalterably opposed to it. Let the Eighteenth Amendment stand, and let all serious minded Americans renew their determination that no backward step shall be taken as regards the destruction of the liquor traffic.

The sale of beer and wine finally will result in the sale of whisky of as high proof as man can stand up to.

The whisky crowd preached "the whisky question is as dead as human slavery" and all the time they were lying awake nights conniving and conspiring to bring back the damnable traffic.

The horse is still proving he is the noblest animal of them all, by maintaining his dignity while tin lizzies and the like take his job.

Nature is said to abhor a vacuum. This must explain why empty headed people are eavesdroppers.

Patriotism consists in not being too proud to fight.

One other thing people don't like that they brought on themselves—the bill collector.

The fact that Kings and Nobles like to go about incognito, proves that being no body in particular is rather nice after all.

If the people could select their candidates instead of just voting for them life might be much nearer worth living. In other words there is too much self-election.

MY VACATION

WHERE, WHEN AND HOW

"I had not intended to take a vacation," said Miss Nina Eldridge, director of the Tennessee Valley Laboratory, "but now I guess I will. Some time late in the summer I hope to go to one of the Gulf ports or South Atlantic ports and take a steamer for Boston where I will spend most of my vacation with relatives there."

Miss Eldridge returned from Montgomery this morning where she spent the week end.

"One day this week," said Judge William T. Lowe of the Morgan County court, "I expect to start down to Marion County for a few days' vacation with relatives in that county."

"But that is only a kind of preliminary vacation," continued Judge Lowe, "later in the summer I am hoping to be able to go to Red Bell Springs for a stay. Then it I intend to take a real rest. From what I can hear Red Belling is a fine place to go and unless my plans fail I will go there in August."

At Princess Theater For Two Performances Tonight and Tuesday

The Princess Theater will offer an unusual attraction tonight and again Tuesday night when it presents a Keith road show composed of feature acts of Keith and Orpheum vaudeville. Each act carries its own setting and electrical effects and has been pronounced by critics one of the most entertaining bills ever assembled. They present a diversified program of comedy, singing, all kinds of dancing and an acrobatic act.

In addition the usual picture program will be run.

HUGH CRAFT IN PRAISE OF CABAMA

Mr. Hugh Craft, a well known and respected farmer of Madison county, Ala., makes the following statement about CABAMA—

OWEN X ROADS, Ala., May 8, 1923.

To Whom It May Concern:

I had a slight case of pyorrhea my mouth and gums had been sore about two years, and would often bleed when I would eat anything. I started to using CABAMA Mouth Wash about two months ago and in ten days or two weeks the soreness left my mouth. Now I have no soreness at all, and my gums do not bleed when I brush them.

I believe I am entirely cured as my gums feel as sound and healthy as they ever did. CABAMA is the only thing I could find to cure me.

(Signed) Respectfully,

R. H. CRAFT,

Ask your druggist for it.

What Is A Person To Person Long Distance Call?

A person-to-person long distance call is when the person originating the call specifies a particular person to be reached at a distant point.

Charges for person-to-person calls begin only when connection is established with the particular person called.

Person-to-person calls are accepted on the condition that a limited service charge will be made when, under certain conditions, it is impossible to establish communication between specified persons.

This service charge is referred to as the "Report Charge."

When a person-to-person call is made, the company not only must do everything that it does in a station-to-station call to establish a communication, but must do it at a time when the particular person called will be available, and will, as a matter of fact, talk. This means repeated efforts in many cases.

Obviously, the company has no control over the whereabouts of persons called, and there is involved an additional expense and circuit use, and uncertainty, caused by conditions over which the company has no control or influence. So that it is both logical and proper that the charge for a person-to-person call should be relatively more than the station-to-station call.

The preference of some patrons for person-to-person service is due to the fact that they will be certain of reaching a specified party, if and when the call is completed.

Evening and night rates do not apply on person-to-person calls.

The chief difference between person-to-person and station-to-station service is that station-to-station calls are completed when the called station answers; there is no requirement that a specified person be brought to the distant telephone and for this reason the rate is lower.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Success and Happiness

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

MRS. SALLIE WHITE of San Francisco, California, says she was happy as a queen when she and her husband lived in a little $40 a month flat and she did her own work, and every Saturday night they had dinner down-town and went to the movies and had an ice cream soda afterward and then spent Sunday afternoon talking over their Saturday night party.

But now her husband is rich and she lives in a big house and has three servants and there's an automobile and everything—but she isn't happy at all.

She doesn't like the things her cook gives her to eat—but if she complains the cook will leave—and that will never do.

Everything Is Changed

And she's dreadfully afraid of the chauffeur—he seems such a stern man and has such a way of frowning when you speak to him about going down a country road or up a lane somewhere that you happen to fancy.

And when she lived in the $40 flat she had lots of comfortable neighbors.

Mrs. Smith on the floor above used to run in every Wednesday morning and tell her what was in the letter she got from her daughter in New York.

Mrs. Johnson on the floor below had twins, and the things those twins did—day in and day out, why it was a regular movie!

And Mrs. Sullivan across the hall had a son who made pictures for the movies, and every once in a while he came round for dinner and to spend the evening and the tales he told about the actors and actresses—well, it was as good as a play, that's all there was to it!

But here the people on the other side of Mrs. White's grand new house even speak to her. And as for knowing the people across the street, their house has been closed and boarded up for six months, and Mrs. White knows perfectly well that when they come home from Europe they'll never think of running over with some nice snapshots of things on the other side of the ocean.

But the worst of it all is her husband. He's cross and cranky and he's never pleased with what Mrs. White wears or how she wears it. He hates her hat and he makes fun of her dresses, and the other day he asked her where she got that style of wearing her hair.

He said it made her look like somebody's great-grandmother come out of the Ark.

And he's hardly ever at home. But when he is, he acts as if he wishes he wasn't and he's always telephoning and telegraphing and sitting in his grand new library figuring and frowning, and Mrs. Sallie White wants a divorce—for she says she'd rather go back home to her mother and remember her husband the way he used to be when they were poor and happy, than to live with him now and be miserable.

You Never Can Tell

I hope Mrs. White will get a separation—and not a divorce—for somehow I feel that after his wife has gone and he's alone in his big expensive house and nobody makes any particular fuss over him, or cares whether he's happy or unhappy, or not—and when he finds what a lot of empty-hearted flatterers there are in the world—and when he overhears some pretty young thing making fun of him for a rich old "body"—

Then I shouldn't be surprised, if he got out Sallie's picture and looked at it and wished that he and she were together again as they used to be when they paid $40 a month for a plain little flat and went to the movies on Saturday night.

And then—maybe. Well, you never can tell.

Sadder.
"Can anything be sadder than work left unfinished?" asks a writer. Yes, work never begun.

Aged Chorus in London Festival.
A feature of a recent musical festival in London was the singing by combined choirs from the mothers' clubs of the metropolis, many of the choristers being more than seventy years of age.

Avoid Idea of Fear.
There is nothing so ingenious as fear; it is even more ingenious than hatred, especially when its concern is with the preservation of money.—Bayle St. John.

Parted at the Altar.
English Paper—"The Duke of —" was among those present at the marriage which, being a mixed one, lasted only a few minutes.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Whales Travel Far.
Some whales travel twice a year more than a quarter of the circumference of the globe, being in the Arctic in summer and on the other side of the equator in winter.

Laughter Killed Love.
I thought quite a lot of a little neighbor boy. One day while over there visiting, I was standing in the dining room watching his mother scrub and talking to both of them. All at once his mother said, "Watch out." I thought I was in her way, so stepped back quickly. Alas! a tub of water was directly behind me and I sat down in it. My little friend laughed at me till he couldn't laugh any longer. My love for him died then and there.—Chicago Journal.

Qualities That Make for Success.
The successful man is the one who has tried not cried, worked no dodged, shouldered responsibility, evaded it, who has gotten under a burden, not stood off looking at a giving gratuitous advice.

Sperm Whale Lives Long.
The sperm whale has a very large span of life. A great bull sperm killed off the coast of New Zealand had, deep in its flesh, the remains of a harpoon from a whaler which had been broken up seventy years before the whale's capture.

Freedom.
No slavery can be abolished without a double emancipation, and the master will benefit by freedom more than the freedman.—Huxley.

British Propose Tinted Highways.
In England the suggestion has been made that the public highways be colored by means of some cheap chemical spray, which would make the less tiring to the eyes of the motor drivers.

Solid Foundation.
Pleasure can be supported by illusion, but happiness rests upon truth.—Boston Transcript.

Honor Belongs to Missouri.
The distinction of being the first state to establish mothers' pensions belongs to Missouri, the law having become effective there in 1911.

Indorsed.
Says a writer: "It is hard luck to be too good to be appreciated." We have often felt this.—Boston Transcript.

A Word to the Wise.
Theorists who try to abolish poverty seldom are able to see that a lot of other things must be abolished first.—Boston Shoe and Leather Reporter.

Better Travel Alone.
The man who meets trouble half way has a poor companion for the rest of the Journey.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Sin Shelters in Darkness.
Only the worm of conscience consorts with the owl. Sinners and evil spirits shun the light.—Schiller.

Distinctive Japanese Dress.
When women go to buy a dress in Japan they tell the shopkeeper their age, and if they are married or not because there are special designs for married and double relations of life as well as for ages.

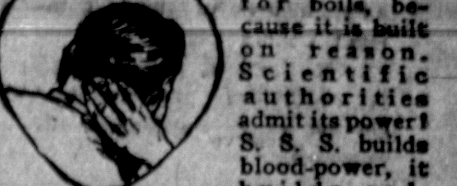

Principles Above All.
Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

Expensive but Effective.
One way to have the last word with your wife is to send her a telegram and then catch a fast train.—Chicago American.

Find New Wood for Pulp.
Australian experimenters have found that satisfactory paper pulp can be made from the wood of several native trees when mixed with other fibrous materials.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting blood. Fighting blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

A fine beginning for any day

Batter Cakes made with MERRY WIDOW Self-Rising Flour are uniformly light and good, and it is just as easy as any breakfast you can prepare. Try this recipe: 3 cups of MERRY WIDOW Flour, two well beaten eggs and sweet or buttermilk to make a thin drop batter. Bake at once on a hot griddle. Be sure and make the batter thin and beat well.

MERRY WIDOW Self-Rising Flour is made by the Ford Flour Company, millers since 1899, the originators of self-rising flour. In spite of the many imitations, it is holding its old friends and making new ones every day. Here's the proof—over 600,000 more bags of MERRY WIDOW were used in 1922 than in 1920. Try it. You will never change. Ask for it by name.

You can count on your batter cakes or biscuits when you use MERRY WIDOW Flour. That's why people call it "The Flour Without a Doubt."

Ford Flour Co., Nashville, Tenn.

Note to Dealers: If your jobber doesn't handle MERRY WIDOW Self-Rising Flour, write us to name of jobber nearest you who does.
